the smiths spoons

Once upon a time... there was this smith who sat at the Christmas dinner, wondering if he too could contribute to the wonderfully set table. On the spot he began to experiment with the cutlery around him...

The result is a feast for the eye, a serving dish for little snacks, bonbons, mints or candy. The dish is made of spoons and comes in three sizes.

Intrigued by the simplicity of products surrounding him and the application of the age-old craft of the smith, Marijn van der Zwaag came to design a beautiful and useful product.
